The Spiritually Informed Social Worker

The School of Executive Diploma Programs

The CAPSTONE Executive Diploma Program in Spiritually Informed Social Work Practice is designed to integrate the spiritual dimension into the foundational bio-psycho-social model of social work, acknowledging the importance of spirituality in holistic care. Recognizing that social workers are often familiar with the need for a comprehensive approach to practice, this program aims to equip them with the skills to incorporate spiritual care effectively. The course series delves into several key areas: recognizing the social worker's own spirituality, conducting spiritual assessments, distinguishing between spirituality and religiosity, understanding concepts of sacredness and divine connection, expanding theological knowledge to better appreciate diverse perspectives, addressing spiritual distress, and navigating the impact of toxic beliefs while enhancing coping skills. This program is ideal for social work practitioners seeking to deepen their competency in providing spiritually informed care, enhancing their ability to support clients' well-being across all dimensions of their lives.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

CP420 Fundamentals in Human Interaction Process and Theory 3 credits

(No prerequisite required)

Description: This course focuses on the application of the theoretical concepts and process of Virginia Satir, a pioneer in the field of psychotherapy. Satir's concepts that will be covered include viewing families and individuals from a systemic lens; honoring the importance of the spiritual dimension; having a growth mindset; understanding common coping patterns and what drives them; the relationship between congruence and self-esteem; understanding the universal process of change and the use of Self in helping relationships. Satir's process will be introduced in six phases: making contact, validating, facilitating awareness, promoting acceptance, making changes, and reinforcing changes.

CP422 Spiritual and Pastoral Counseling for Individuals 3 credits

(No prerequisite required)

Description: This course explores the basic dynamics of interpersonal relationships and the characteristics and behaviors that influence the counseling process. Students will learn to employ essential interviewing, counseling, and case conceptualization skills.

CP423 Premarital and Family Counseling from a
Spiritual Perspective 3 credits

(No prerequisite required)

Description: This course identifies common marital and family dynamics. Attention is placed on the impact of heritage, attitudes, beliefs, understandings, and acculturative experiences on an individual's views of others. Students learn strategies for identifying and eliminating barriers, prejudices, and processes of intentional and unintentional oppression and discrimination.

CP425 Spiritual Assessment and Evaluation 3 credits

(No prerequisite required)

Description: This course describes the major categories of psychopathology and identify common differentiating features of abnormal psychological functioning.
